PREFACE

It is a great pleasure that West Bengal Veterinary Alumni Association is going to publish a new Journal in the name of "Exploratory Animal and Medical Research" to enrich the knowledge of the veterinarian and the professionals of different areas of animal sciences, medical and public health. This Journal, I am sure, will cater the implication of advanced scientific research to the veterinarian and personnel of associated fields to achieve more animal proteins for getting more nutrition and more health of general people of our state through ultimate upliftment of livelihood of the rural people engaged in animal farming and husbandry sector.

Since last few years, various scientific articles are being published successfully in "Vets Vision", the previous technical Journal of the association. Now the association has taken endeavor to extend the arena of conveying the recent advancement of scientific research and concept in the form of the Journal named "Exploratory Animal and Medical Research". I hope that it will definitely enrich the administrators, policy makers, students, scientists and the veterinarian along with professionals of related fields including medical sciences.

I convey my heartfelt thanks to the Editor-in-Chief, associate editor and all the members of Advisory Board as well as Editorial Board for providing technical expertization and devoting time and energy to publish the same.

I also welcome suggestions and views from the readers to improve our Journal technically.

(Dr. Gurucharan Datta)
